Blacking for Boots & Shoes,

Superior to any ever offered to the public.
ROBERT COCHRAN,
No. 48, North Fourth-street, next door to the Green Tree Inn, Philadelphia.

WITH confidence offers to the public his superior Portable and Liquid blacking, so much admired and approved of, which is manufactured by himself only.
This blacking possesses every desirable quality, being of an oily nature, it preserves the leather perfectly soft to the last, and keeps it from cracking—it is a jet black, affords a most superiative polish, entirely free from any offensive smell, and so clean as not to soil the whitest muslin or any other substance it may chance to run against, and will keep in any climate—it has a peculiar advantage in being put up in a portable manner, and may be packed without possibility of risque, with the nicest clothes or goods. The Portable Blacking is muchadapted for gentleman residing or travelling in the country, where materials for making Blacking is not to had, and as for cheapness and elegance, far exceeds any ever imported or manufactured in the union. Where is sold as above, the beautiful Chinese Liquid Blacking, for ladies morocco boots and shoes, which makes the oldest morocco boots or shoes appear the same as when new. Sold wholesale at the manufactory, as above.
N. B. Please observe that each bottle it sealed and signed by the proprietor, to prevent spurious impressions being imposed on the public.
It may be had at the following places in Alexandria.—Dr. Stabler and Richard Woods on Fairfax street,—Dr. Semmes, & Dr. Little's apothecary shops, on King-street.—Isaac Entwisles, shoe factory, and Thomas Mount's factory & Hardware store on King-street. sw2m March 20

SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1819.

The following is said to have been taken from a Scotch epitaph in the church yard of Dundee:

Here lies a man,
Com'd of Adam and Eve,
If any will climb higher,
I give him leave.

Mr. Payne's tragedy of Brutus was performed at Drury Lane theatre, Feb. 18th, for the 43d time!

A law has been introduced into the French legislative chamber to secure the respectability of ministers by providing for the impeachment of any ministers by the chamber of deputies. The trial to be had by the chamber of peers, and they empowered to award punishment of death, deportation, perpetual imprisonment, civil degradation or imprisonment, for a term of years.

Accounts from Siera Leone to December 21, say that the expedition to the interior cannot succeed. It had not advanced a step for the last two months, and government had declined granting any further supplies. [London paper.

DANDY OF 1770.

An account of the appearance of one of them, is published in an English paper fifty years ago:

"A few days ago, a Macaroni made his appearance in the Assembly Rooms, at Whitehaven, in the following dress:—A mixed silk coat, pink satin waistcoat and breeches, covered with an elegant silver nett, white silk stockings with pink clocks, pink satin shoes and large pearl buckles, a mushroom colored stock, covered with fine point lace—his hair dressed remarkably high, and stuck full of pearl pins."

LITERARY SHOEMAKERS.

The fraternity of shoemakers have, unquestionably, given rise to some characters of great worth and genius. The late Mr. Holcroft was originally a shoemaker. His dramatic pieces must rank among the best of those on the English stage. Robert Bloomfield wrote his poem of "the Farmer's Boy," while employed at his business, and Dr. William Corey, professor of Sanscrit and Bengalee, at the college of Fort William, Calcutta, and the able and indefatigable translator of the scriptures into many of the eastern languages, was in early life a shoemaker in North-amptonshire. The present Mr. Gifford, the translator of Juvenal, and the supposed editor of the quarterly review, spent some of his early days in learning the "craft and mystery" of a shoemaker, as he tells us, in one of the most interesting pieces of autobiography ever penned, and prefixed to his nervous and elegant version of the great Roman satirist.

The fountain of St. Allyre, which runs to Clermont Fenand, in the department of Ruy-de-Dome, is justly ranked among the wonders of nature in France, on account of the petrifying property of its waters. The various calcareous matters, held in solution by the water penetrates so perfectly through bodies submitted to its action that they become identified with them, are mingled deeply with their substance, and assume their forms; thus by their concretion, they change into solid masses, into true stones, vegetables, flowers, branches of limbs and entire animals.

This phenomenon of nature, which in some measure calls to mind the fable of the metamorphoses, has given the idea to an inhabitant of the country, to carry to Paris a number of these singular productions, and to form a cabinet of curiosities in the Croix de-petits-Champs, No. 21. You see there a fox running after a fowl, which reminds you of the dog in the fable which reaches but never seizes the hare that does not fly from it—a spaniel always ready to follow his master—birds that are trembling with fear, so that you might thing they were petrified by fright, &c. All the objects which the cabinet contains, seem as if fixed by the head of Medusa. So much does the image of life remain deeply imprinted on the victims of death, that some preserving power prevents you from noticing the seal of destruction.

The proprietors of this cabinet have had the honor of presenting to the King a petrified bed. They show also a picture representing the magic fountain and its landscapes, and the visit which the Duke d'Angouleme had the curiosity to make to it.—One of the most astonishing works of this fountain is, to have produced by successive concretions, a natural bridge, which is extremely picturesque, the arch of which is decorated with stalactytes. This bridge makes one of the beauties of the picture.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1819.

Considerable excitement has for some time prevailed in a neighboring county in Virginia on the subject of a removal of the court-house. Some animosity has existed; but the wits are disposed to treat it pleasantly. The following couplet is sent us by mail for insertion:

Prince William County, Virginia.
Move the court house above the Run,
There will be less law and more justice done.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEITS.

The notes of a new emission of the state Bank of Georgia, have been so ingeniously altered, the fives to fifties, and the tens to hundreds, that it is not practicable for any person but an officer of the Bank to discover whether they are genuine or counterfeit.

The only safe advice we can give is, not to receive any notes of that bank of those denominations.

Balt. Fed. Gazette

From the Washington City Gazette.

A friend has just put into our hands a copy of a circular intended to be issued by the Branch Bank in this city, under the direction of the parent bank at Philadelphia: it prescribes a summary mode of disposing of notes under protest, calculated to swell the docket at the next court, and line the pockets of our lawyers, at the expense of a suffering community—circumstances not very credible to the character of the president and directors at Philadelphia.

According to a new regulation we also learn that, in future, notes will not be received for collection, nor will any of the district bank notes be received on deposit. "Office of Discount and Deposit Washington.

"SIR: A resolution passed by the president and directors of the Bank of the U. States at Philadelphia, on the 9th inst. has imposed on me as a duty, to institute suits within ten days, on all Notes due to this bank that may be under protest, unless the same shall be paid or satisfactory secured.

"The board of directors of this office, will, at their next meeting, receive and act upon such propositions as you may deem proper to make in relation to such notes as may have been drawn or endorsed by you, and which are now lying over under protest.

BANK OF THE UNITED STATES.

Philadelphia, April 20.

Yesterday at 12 o'clock, the ceremony was performed of laying the Corner Stone of the building for this institution.

Enclosed in the stone was deposited, secured in a leaden case, a Glass Vase containing several of the gold, silver and copper coins of the United States, and the following inscription beautifully printed on vellum paper:

On the 19th day of the month April, in the 42d year of the Independence of the United States of America, (being the year 1819 of the Christian Era,)

This the Corner Stone of the BANK of the United States was laid by Langdon Chieves, President, and Jonathan Smith, Cashier,

Attended by Nicholas Biddle, John Conelly, James C. Fisher, and Joshua Lippincott, the Building Committee—William Strickland, Architect—Adam and Thomas Traquair, Marble Masons—Philip Justus, Carpenter—Dan'l Croves and Joseph S. Walter, Bricklayers,

And a numerous assemblage of the citizens of Philadelphia.

It would seem by a kind of exposition in the New-York Evening Post, and by other publications, that though political parties are running high in the state of New-York, those parties are not very accurately defined. The Post opposes, totis viribus, any support of the Clintonian ticket at the ensuing election, while it would seem that some of the Federalists prefer that to the Tammany ticket. The probability appears to be, that the Federal votes will be divided between the two, and in that case it is doubtful which will succeed. We do not perceive that any other of the federal papers beside the Post seem inclined to enter the arena upon this occasion.

These wholesome auxiliaries to our market, and comfortable relief every season, to all classes, have never been known so plenty as at present—seventeen hundred were caught at one haul on Monday last, in the Deleware—the cheapness with which they may be procured, and the advantage in curing them for the warmer season, has been a great blessing to our numerous and increasing population. They have been sold at £4 50 per hundred.

New-York, Feb. 19.

An important decision was made on Saturday in the Supreme Court now sitting in this city, in the case of Capt. Percival, of Boston, and Capt. Hickey, late commander of the British sloop of war Atalanta.

During the existence of the non-intercourse law with Great Britain in May, 1810, the schr. Mary was fallen in with on her return voyage, by the above sloop of war, then in company with the frigate Cleopatra, and after an obstinate chase from early in in the afternoon until between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening, the sloop of war came sufficiently near to bring the M. to; and after her sails were down, except the jib and foresail, with a light hoisted, she was run a midships by the sloop of war, and sunk in a very short time after; the Captain and crew saved themselves on board the sloop of war. She had on board a valuable cargo and considerable specie, owned by captain Percival, who had not time even to save his papers, or wearing apparel. During our late war with Great Britain, Capt. Hickey was transferred to a command on the lakes, at the conclusion of peace, on his passing through New-York, on his return to England, was arrested at the suit of Capt. Percival.

The trial commenced on Thursday morning, and after a patient investigation by an intelligent jury for three days, the verdict was rendered in favor of Capt. Percival for $29,744 94 cents, and costs. Wells and Ogden, Counsellers, were bail for the defendant.

We have received returns of about five sixths of the votes given at the late election which render it certain that Governor Brooks is re-elected by a majority of about 5000 votes. [Bost. Daily Advertiser.

Baltimore, April 19.

The executive council of Maryland this day meet, for the transaction of public business.

The most singular instance of self-destruction that perhaps ever was heard of, was perpetrated by a maniac in this city last week—his breakfast having been bro't as usual, after drinking the tea, he split the bowl in two, and with the rough edge of one of the broken pieces cut his arm, near the shoulder, until every sinew was rent, and thus bled to death.

An example of peculiar atrocity occurred in the state prison at Charlestown not long ago, which has not often been paralleled, in regard to ferocity of temper. The warden had ordered one of the most ingenious workmen among the prisoners, to make a blade for a penknife, in which he was very expert, and fix it in a handle, which he held in his hand. The convict gave him an impudent look, told him if he would let him have a quart of rum, he would perform the work. This being refused, he offered to do it for a pint of spirit,—but the keeper told him to begin immediately. He then peremptorily refused, swearing he would not obey him. "You wont," said the keeper, "then I'll find means to make you do it." The criminal at once placed his left hand upon the work-bench, took up a hatchet, and chopping off the ends of his fingers with it, looked in the Warden's face, and called out "There, now you can't make me."

MAMMOTH TOOTH

On the 29th March after the late fresh, a Mammoth Tooth, weighing eleven pounds, was found in the Bank of Hinkston, about 20 feet below the surface, at the old Buffalo ford, in the vicinity of Millersburgh. It appeared to be a grinder, was rough and very much decayed. Kentucky paper.

FRESHETS.

Rutland, Vt. April 13.

The sudden departure of a considerable body of Snow, accompanied with rain, occasioned a very considerable rise of many of the streams in the west part of the country, and the adjoining part of the state of New York.

The demage done in Granville is considerable. Mr Doan lost nearly one hundred sheep, and would have lost his whole flock, had not a number of them been saved by placing themselves upon those who were first drowned.

We learn, verbally, from the towns west of us, that many bridges and some mills have been swept off.

The mills of the hon. Judge Rich, of of Shoream, are all swept away. The rise of water at this place was very sudden. No danger was apprehended at 9 o'clock at night, and the next morning not a vestage of a mill was to be seen.

Easton, (Pa.) April 16.

We are sorry to state, that the newly erected Lehigh Water Gap Bridge, was entirely swept away by the sudden and uncommon rise of the river Lehigh last Sunday night week. The works of Messrs. White, Hauto, and Hazard, it is said, have likewise sustained serious damage—and many other individuals have suffered by the flood.

Concord, (N. H.) April 13.

The heavy rain of Sunday night last week producing a sudden breaking up of the ice in Merrimack river, the northerly bridge in this town and the turnpike bridge at Isle Hooksett, were rendered impassible, by the carrying away three piers in the former, and one pier in the latter.—Preparations had been made for erecting a new bridge in this town, in the anticipation that the old one would be unfit for use after the present season—so that the inconvenience, although great, will be only temporary. Both bridges will be replaced by the proprietors as early in the season as the water will admit.

The late rain and thaw raised the smaller streams very high, and in some instances have rendered the roads impassible.

The New-York Columbian of the 19th inst states—"at the moment this paper was going to press, we were visited by a tremendous storm of thunder, lightning and hail, and the schooner Thames is on fire at Old Slip."

STEAM SHIP.

The beautiful steam-ship Savannah, commanded by Capt. Moses Rogers, arrived here yesterday from Savannah. She made her run from Tybee Light, in something less than 11 hours. This novel spectacle drew a large concourse of spectators to the wharves, who cheered as she passed the city. During the day she was visited and admired by several hundreds of our citizens. The Savannah is a vessel rising 300 tons burthen, of a very handsome model, built of the best materials, and in a most workmanlike manner. Her internal accommodations are upon the modern plan; the after cabin being divided from the other by sliding doors, which can, at any moment, be closed. The lodgings of the main cabin are enclosed in very neat and commodious state-rooms, having two wide births in each. She draws 12 feet water, her paddles dip about 2½ feet, and are of a semicircular shape. She appears to move thro' the water with nearly the same ease and velocity as the common steam boats, notwithstanding her draught, masts, spars and rigging. As a packet, this vessel has greater advantages than any yet introduced.—In calms or head winds, (unless of a violent nature) her steam engine must be acknowledged extremely useful by all. And in case of a squall, or heavy storm of long continuance, her paddles can be unshipped and housed in less time than a common suit of sails can be handed.

[Charleston paper, April 19.

The manufacture of China ware, or Pocelian, equal in firmness to the French, has been commenced in this city. At the monthly meeting of the Historical Society, a few days ago, samples of the articles prepared by Mr. Mead, from domestic materials, were presented for inspection—Theirs forms, their composition, their enamelling and every thing, gave universal satisfaction. [N. Y. Mer. Adv.

COMMERCIAL.

Extract of a letter from St. Thomas, dated 10th March, received in Baltimore.

"In our last we gave it as our opinion that the article of Coffee would not fall this crop—sales were made last week at 26 dollars, with the appearance of standing at that price. Sugars hold good at 9 dollars for first quality, and 8½ for second. Rum has the appearance of looking up. As yet there has not arrived a hogshead of Tobacco—that article has been sold as high as 33 dollars per cwt. by the cask—but we are of opinion that 18 dollars will be a fair quotation. [American.

FROM VENEZUELA.

Official accounts are received at Havana from Caraccas, state that Gen. Morillo reviewed, on the 30th January, a great part of the army, which was assembled on the plains of San Fernando de Apure, with intent to commence the operations of the campaign. The general was highly pleased with the fine appearance, strict discipline and elegant military evolutions of the army then assembled, and considered it the most formidable that had ever trod the soil of Venezuela. On the 1st February the army removed from San Fernando de Apure, and on the 2d and 3d forced the passages of the rivers Aranca and Canjaral, which Paez and his followers vainly attempted to defend. On the 5th, General Morillo's head quarters were at Noevo Paso del Rey, whence he intended to advance on the following day in pursuit of the enemy, with a view to finish at once what he considered the last campaign in Venezuela. [Charleston. Courier.

THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON.

Very erroneous ideas are entertained respecting the wealth acquired by our illustrious hero. It is well known, to all leading military men, that the duke's allowance amounted only to £6000 per annum. His expences, except when in Paris, greatly exceed his income; and at Cambray, where he kept open house to all who chose to join in the sports of the field, they were enormously great. It is true that £500,000, (the award of parliament) appears a great sum—but when we consider that £263,000 of that sum goes to Lord Rivers, there is then to be built a magnificent palace, which will swallow up the greater part of the residue. As to the service of plate, the one from Portugal takes the lead, and even that, what is the intrinsic value? It abound with ornament, and the sculpture is very beautiful; but as to solid worth, it is inconsiderable. As to the story of the pictures, it is a fable. Exaggeration has extended their value to between one and two hundred thousand pounds. His grace has few pictures of great celebrity; and not one of those which he rescued from the fangs of Joseph Bonaparte, at the battle of Vittoria, who had taken them from the Escurial. A gentleman, very likely to be well informed, asserts, that the Duke of Wellington's income, when all his affairs are arranged, will not exceed £20,000 per annum.

[London paper.

The "Society for the encouragement of industry in France," has proposed the following prizes for the year 1819:—For the application of the steam-engine to printing presses, 2,000 francs; for the fabrication of a new species of economical carpet, 200 francs; for the fabrication of an indelible green color preferable to the green of Scheele, 2,000 france; for the discovery of the best process of pounding colors in oil and water to the degree of consistency required by artists, 500 francs; for the manufacture of animal charcoal from other substances than bones, and by a process different from that employed for preparing Prussian blue, 2,000 france; for the manufacture of isinglass, 2,000 francs; for the discovery of a vegetable substance, either natural or prepared, which will serve as a complete substance for the leaves of the mulberry in the rearing of silk-worms, 2000 francs.

LONDON FASHIONS FOR MARCH.

Walking dress.—A round dress, composed of dove colored tabbinet—the skirt is gored, and very full at the bottom. The trimming consists of a bias piece of satin about a quarter of a yard in breadth, which is ornamented by gauze rose and bands of velvet—the former are placed lengthwise, three together, in a slanting direction—the latter which are edged with a beautiful narrow silk trimming, are placed between the roses. The body is made half high, it is tight to the shape—the waist is very short, and the sleeves are long and tight to the arm; the bust and the bottoms of the sleeves are trimmed with an intermixture of satin and gauze. Over this dress is worn a bronze colored velvet spencer, the waist of which is finished in a very novel style, by a small jacket, richly braided and adorned with tassels in the middle of the back and at each side—the spencer is tight to the shape—the back is of a moderate breadth, and it has a high standing collar. Long sleeves with epauletts, which are richly braided, Lace Ruff, Head dress, a velvet bonnet, which has a small dome crown, adorned on the summit with a garland of flowers. The brim, which stands a good deal off the face, is very large—it is finished round the edge with a narrow roll of twisted riband, and tied with soft riband under the chin. Shoes and gloves of dove colored kid to correspond; the former are ornamented next to the binding with a slight braiding.

Evening Dress.—A round dress, composed of satin striped gauze of a dark puce color, over a white satin slip, the skirt is very full, particularly at the bottom, and is ornamented with two rows of a light silk trimming, which is set on in waves. The body is cut low round the bust; the back is plain; the front is formed in a pretty and becoming style; the bosom is delicately shaded by a piece of net drawn in casings; it sits close to the neck, and has a becoming as well as modest effect. The sleeves are short, and very full. The head dress is a toque, composed of Chinese silk and white net; it is ornamented next the face with a band of Roman pearl. Neck lace, ear rings, and bracelets pearl. White satin shoes, and white kid gloves.

English Walking Dress.—Round dress of muslin, richly, though lightly embroidered in open spots round the border. Spencer of ethereal blue Terry velvet, with a splendid groupe of plumes of ethereal blue.

General Observations.—Satins, sarsnets, and figured silks, yet retain their station at the dinner and evening party: the new opera robe is extremely graceful and becoming; it is of etherial blue satin, trimmed down the sides with white velvet, with blue silk embossed edges; the sleeves are long, and of the net, down which run stripes of blue satin riband. With this robe should be worn the opera turban of white satin, ornamented with puffs of ethereal blue satin, mingled with white, and long dropping white feathers. The chain gauze, of a fine silky and shining texture in rich stripes of chain work very close together; is a light and beautiful article for ball dresses; its trimming should be fine blond, interspersed with roulleaux of satin, light wreaths of artificial flowers, or embossments of white chenille on satin of some light spring color.

A corsage of satin is indispenable with these dresses. The favourite colours are ethereal blue, Tyrian scarlet, emerald green and lilack.

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale.

BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 930 acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few—surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. John Taylor's Maryland estate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, is in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres.

Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed, to the subscriber, near Hampton post office, Virginia.

Shad and Herrings

CAN be had, in any reasonable quantities, and at moderate prices, at the

White-House Fishery

of the Belvoir estate, on the river Potomac; and persons from the country, as well as water customers, are invited to that shore, where they may expect the best treatment, and every facility, in getting such supplies as they need, which that well known fishery, and the utmost attention of the subscriber, can afford. Having been long experienced in that business on the Delaware river, and having taken the fishery for several seasons, he has caused a complete outfit to be made, not only for taking Shad, as heretofore, but Herrings, of which it is well known that almost any number may be caught at that shore, when the gluts are in the river. A very complete and commodious fish-house, on the spot, may be made use of by persons disposed to put up fish extensively, and who bring barrels and salt for the purpose. A number of barrels, and a quantity of salt, may probably also be had at the fish-house.——As the

at the mouth of Pohick Creek, on the same estate, is carried on this season by Mr. John Henderson, there will be the greater certainty that customers will not be disappointed in herrings, the two fisheries being near together: but country customers are cautioned not to come too early for herrings; as, of late years, they have several times done, and by returning home have missed of getting their supply, which afterwards was plentiful.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole; it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or Vaccine Institution.

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
